

Reminder to use in-network laboratory

Published: Mar 1, 2019 - Administrative

As a reminder, physicians are required to refer to in-network laboratories. Laboratory Corporation of America (LabCorp) is one of many labs participating in the PPO network. For a complete list of PPO labs see the “Find a Doctor” tool at anthem.com.

LabCorp is the exclusive national clinical reference laboratory provider for Anthem HMO, Open Access POS and Pathways members. For these members, this means referring to LabCorp. By doing so, members are assured of having the highest benefit level and minimum out-of-pocket expense.

Laboratory specimens can be collected in the office with LabCorp courier pick-up available throughout Georgia. Members may also bring a LabCorp requisition form completed by their physician, to any of the over one-hundred LabCorp Patient Service Center locations throughout Georgia. To find out about LabCorp Patient Service Center locations, go to anthem.com.

If you have questions about LabCorp services, need to set up a LabCorp account, order supplies or schedule a pick-up, please call LabCorp at 800-762-0890.

If you have questions about our provider network or coverage for your patients, please contact your Anthem network consultant.
